
FLORA'S BEDTIME STORY CLUB
The Little Star Who Says Hello
Written by
Tashuna Gray

This is Ella Mae.

Ella Mae loved bedtime.

At the end of each day, she would put on her favorite starry pajamas, slip into her cozy bedroom, and get ready to snuggle beneath her soft purple blankets.

Tonight seemed like any other night.

Ella Mae climbed onto her bed with her favorite doll and settled in, ready for sleep.

But just as she was getting comfortable...

something outside her window began to twinkle.

Ella Mae looked toward the window.

There, among all the stars in the night sky, was one tiny Star glowing just a little brighter than the others.

It twinkled once.

Then twice.

Ella Mae sat up and watched.

Suddenly—

TWINKLE!

The little Star disappeared from the night sky...

...and magically appeared inside Ella Mae's bedroom.

Ella Mae stared at the little Star floating beside her.

She wasn't frightened.

She was curious.

The little Star glowed softly, filling the room with a warm, gentle light.

Ella Mae leaned a little closer.

The Star twinkled.

Then, to Ella Mae's surprise, it spoke.

“Hello.”

Ella Mae's eyes grew wide.

“You can talk?”